

bethune early childhood development center

bethune early childhood development center is a premier institution dedicated to fostering the growth and learning of young children in a nurturing and supportive environment. This center focuses on providing comprehensive early childhood education that aligns with developmental milestones and prepares children for future academic success. Emphasizing a holistic approach, the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center integrates cognitive, social, emotional, and physical development through carefully designed programs and activities. Parents and caregivers seeking quality early childhood programs will find the center's commitment to excellence and child-centered philosophy particularly valuable. This article explores the various facets of the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center, including its educational philosophy, curriculum offerings, facilities, staff qualifications, community involvement, and enrollment process. The information presented will serve as a detailed guide for families and educators interested in early childhood development services.

- Educational Philosophy and Approach
- Curriculum and Learning Programs
- Facilities and Resources
- Qualified Staff and Professional Development
- Community Engagement and Family Support
- Enrollment Process and Admission Criteria

Educational Philosophy and Approach

The educational philosophy at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center centers on fostering a safe, inclusive, and stimulating environment where every child is encouraged to explore and learn at their own pace. The center adopts a child-centered approach that respects individual differences and promotes holistic development. This approach is grounded in the belief that early childhood education is critical for building the foundation of lifelong learning and well-being.

Child-Centered Learning

At the core of the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center's approach is the principle of child-centered learning. This philosophy prioritizes the interests, needs, and abilities of each child, allowing educators to tailor activities that engage children actively. By encouraging curiosity and creativity, the center helps children develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills essential for future academic achievements.

Inclusive and Supportive Environment

The center fosters inclusivity by welcoming children from diverse backgrounds and abilities. It provides additional support for children with special needs, ensuring that all children receive equitable opportunities to succeed. The supportive environment also emphasizes emotional security and positive relationships with peers and teachers, which are vital for healthy social development.

Curriculum and Learning Programs

The curriculum at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center is designed to be comprehensive, developmentally appropriate, and aligned with national early childhood education standards. It integrates various domains of learning, including language and literacy, mathematics, science, social studies, arts, and physical development.

Developmentally Appropriate Practices

The center implements developmentally appropriate practices (DAP) by creating age-specific learning experiences that match children's developmental stages. This ensures that children are neither overwhelmed nor under-challenged, promoting optimal engagement and learning outcomes.

Play-Based and Experiential Learning

Recognizing the importance of play in early childhood development, the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center incorporates play-based learning methodologies. Through hands-on activities, sensory experiences, and exploratory play, children develop essential cognitive and motor skills. Experiential learning also fosters social interaction and emotional regulation.

Language and Literacy Development

The center places strong emphasis on language acquisition and literacy skills. Activities such as storytelling, singing, interactive reading, and vocabulary-building exercises support children's communication abilities and prepare them for formal schooling.

Social and Emotional Learning

Social and emotional learning (SEL) is integrated into daily routines to help children develop self-awareness, empathy, and interpersonal skills. The curriculum includes cooperative games, role-playing, and guided discussions to nurture positive behaviors and conflict resolution abilities.

Facilities and Resources

The physical environment of the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center is designed to be safe, welcoming, and conducive to learning. The center features modern classrooms, outdoor play areas, and specialized learning spaces that support diverse activities and developmental needs.

Classroom Design

Classrooms are spacious, well-lit, and equipped with age-appropriate furniture and educational materials. Learning centers within the classrooms focus on different developmental domains, such as literacy corners, art stations, sensory tables, and science exploration areas.

Outdoor Play and Exploration Areas

The outdoor spaces provide opportunities for physical activity, gross motor skill development, and nature exploration. These areas are securely fenced and include playground equipment, gardens, and open spaces for group activities.

Learning Materials and Technologies

The center utilizes a variety of learning materials, including books, manipulatives, puzzles, and interactive technology tools that enhance instructional delivery and engagement. These resources are regularly updated to reflect best practices in early childhood education.

Qualified Staff and Professional Development

The success of the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center is closely linked to the expertise and dedication of its staff. The center employs qualified early childhood educators who possess relevant certifications and a passion for nurturing young learners.

Staff Qualifications and Training

All teaching staff hold degrees or certifications in early childhood education or related fields. The center ensures that educators are trained in the latest pedagogical strategies, child development theories, and safety protocols.

Ongoing Professional Development

Continuous professional development is a priority at the center. Staff participate in workshops, seminars, and collaborative learning sessions to stay updated on emerging trends and research in early childhood education. This commitment to growth enhances instructional quality and child outcomes.

Community Engagement and Family Support

The Bethune Early Childhood Development Center actively engages with families and the broader community to create a supportive network for children's development. Recognizing parents as primary partners, the center fosters open communication and collaborative involvement.

Parent Involvement Programs

Parents are encouraged to participate in activities such as parent-teacher conferences, family workshops, and volunteer opportunities. These programs empower families to support their children's learning and development effectively.

Community Partnerships

The center collaborates with local organizations, healthcare providers, and educational institutions to enhance service delivery and provide additional resources for children and families. These partnerships facilitate access to specialized support and enrichment opportunities.

Enrollment Process and Admission Criteria

The enrollment process at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center is designed to be transparent, efficient, and family-friendly. The center outlines clear admission criteria and provides guidance to prospective families throughout the application stages.

Application and Registration

Families interested in enrolling their children can obtain application forms from the center's administration office or official communication channels. The process involves submitting required documentation, including proof of age, immunization records, and emergency contact information.

Admission Criteria and Priorities

The center prioritizes enrollment based on age eligibility, residency within designated areas, and specific needs such as children with disabilities. Admissions are conducted on a rolling basis, with waitlists maintained to accommodate demand.

Orientation and Transition Support

To ensure a smooth transition for new students, the center offers orientation sessions that familiarize children and families with the environment, routines, and expectations. Staff provide ongoing support during the adjustment period to promote comfort and engagement.

- Provides a nurturing and inclusive learning environment
- Offers developmentally appropriate and play-based curriculum
- Equipped with modern facilities and educational resources
- Staffed by qualified and continually trained educators
- Engages families and community partners actively
- Maintains a transparent and supportive enrollment process

Frequently Asked Questions

What programs are offered at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

Bethune Early Childhood Development Center offers a variety of programs including preschool education, early literacy development, social skills training, and family engagement activities designed to support the holistic development of young children.

What age groups does Bethune Early Childhood Development Center serve?

The center serves children from infancy through pre-kindergarten, typically ages 0 to 5 years old, providing age-appropriate learning and developmental activities.

What is the educational philosophy of Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

Bethune Early Childhood Development Center follows a child-centered educational philosophy that emphasizes hands-on learning, social-emotional growth, and fostering creativity to prepare children for future academic success.

Are there enrollment requirements for Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

Yes, enrollment requirements generally include proof of age, immunization records, and sometimes residency within the district. Specific requirements may vary, so contacting the center directly is recommended.

Does Bethune Early Childhood Development Center provide meals for children?

Yes, the center typically provides nutritious meals and snacks as part of their program to ensure children receive balanced nutrition during their time at the center.

What safety measures are in place at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

The center implements strict safety protocols including secure entry systems, regular health screenings, trained staff, and emergency preparedness plans to ensure a safe environment for all children.

How does Bethune Early Childhood Development Center involve parents in their child's development?

Bethune Early Childhood Development Center encourages parental involvement through regular communication, parent-teacher conferences, family workshops, and volunteer opportunities within the center.

Are there special needs services available at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

Yes, the center provides support services for children with special needs, including individualized education plans (IEPs), speech therapy, and occupational therapy in collaboration with specialists.

What are the operating hours of Bethune Early Childhood Development Center?

The typical operating hours are Monday through Friday, from 7:30 AM to 5:30 PM, but it is best to check directly with the center for any variations or extended care options.

Additional Resources

1. Foundations of Early Childhood Education at Bethune Center

This book explores the core principles and teaching methodologies implemented at the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center. It provides educators and parents with a comprehensive guide to fostering cognitive, social, and emotional growth in young children. Real-life examples from the center illustrate effective strategies for early learning success.

2. Play-Based Learning: Insights from Bethune Early Childhood Development

Focusing on the importance of play in early education, this book highlights how Bethune Center integrates play-based activities to enhance creativity and problem-solving skills. It offers practical ideas and activities that align with child development theories, encouraging educators to create engaging and supportive learning environments.

3. Nurturing Social-Emotional Skills at Bethune Early Childhood Center

This title delves into the social and emotional development programs at Bethune Center, emphasizing the role of empathy, cooperation, and self-regulation in young learners. It discusses techniques used by teachers to build strong relationships and create a safe space for children to express themselves.

4. Language Development Strategies at Bethune Early Childhood Education

This book examines the approaches Bethune Center uses to support early language acquisition and literacy. It includes activities, storytelling methods, and communication techniques that help children develop vocabulary, listening skills, and expressive language from a young age.

5. Inclusive Education Practices at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center

Highlighting the center's commitment to diversity and inclusion, this book provides insights into accommodating children with varied learning needs. It outlines adaptive teaching methods and collaborative approaches that ensure every child receives equitable educational opportunities.

6. Healthy Habits and Nutrition at Bethune Early Childhood Center

This book addresses the importance of health, nutrition, and physical activity in early childhood settings. Drawing from Bethune Center's programs, it offers guidelines for promoting healthy lifestyles among young children, including meal planning, exercise routines, and hygiene education.

7. Family Engagement in Early Childhood Education: Lessons from Bethune Center

Focusing on the critical role of family involvement, this book details how Bethune Early Childhood Development Center fosters strong partnerships with parents and caregivers. It provides strategies for effective communication, collaborative goal setting, and supporting children's learning at home.

8. Integrating Technology in Early Childhood Learning at Bethune Center

This title explores the thoughtful use of technology to enhance learning experiences at Bethune Early Childhood Development Center. It discusses age-appropriate digital tools and activities that support early literacy, numeracy, and creativity while maintaining screen-time balance.

9. Outdoor Learning and Environmental Awareness at Bethune Early Childhood Center

Highlighting the benefits of nature-based education, this book showcases Bethune Center's outdoor learning initiatives. It explains how interaction with the natural environment promotes curiosity, physical development, and environmental stewardship among young children.

Bethune Early Childhood Development Center

Find other PDF articles:

<https://staging.devenscommunity.com/archive-library-101/pdf?dataid=pRn45-0386&title=beat-saber-trophy-guide.pdf>

bethune early childhood development center: African American Children in Early Childhood Education Iheoma U. Iruka, Stephanie M. Curenton, Tonia R. Durden, 2017-05-31 This book presents both the challenges and opportunities that exist for addressing the critical needs of black children, who have been historically underserved in the U.S. education system.

bethune early childhood development center: Handbook of Early Childhood Teacher Education Leslie J. Couse, Susan L. Recchia, 2015-07-24 This handbook synthesizes both contemporary research and best practices in early childhood teacher education, a unique segment of teacher education defined by its focus on child development, the role of the family, and support for all learners. The first volume of its kind, the Handbook of Early Childhood Teacher Education provides comprehensive coverage on key topics in the field, including the history of early childhood teacher education programs, models for preparing early childhood educators, pedagogical approaches to supporting diverse learners, and contemporary influences on this quickly expanding area of study. Appropriate for early childhood teacher educators as well as both pre- and in-service teachers working with children from birth through 8, this handbook articulates the unique features of early childhood teacher education, highlighting the strengths and limitations of current practice as based in empirical research. It concludes by charting future directions for research with an aim to improve the preparation of early childhood educators.

bethune early childhood development center: Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 , 2003

bethune early childhood development center: Are You in a Pickle? Patricia L. Pickles Ph. D., 2012-02 Patricia L. Pickles, Ph.D. is a native of Illinois and the mother of one daughter, one son and four grandchildren. She is currently retired from the public school system but runs her own consulting company, A+ Standards of Excellence and Equity in Education. Dr. Pickles enjoys giving back to the community, closing achievement gaps, swimming, traveling, reading and spending time with family and friends. Now that the author drives her own company and priorities, she finally found the time to speak out through her writing. She shares her stories and how to strategies for improving students' performance and closing achievement gaps. She talks candidly about lessons learned in education and leadership that you won't get from a regular textbook. Readers are encouraged to persevere through challenges, barriers and setbacks. Future suggestions for education are provided.

bethune early childhood development center: Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 , 1991

bethune early childhood development center: Research in Education , 1974

bethune early childhood development center: Legislative Calendar United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor, 1988

bethune early childhood development center: Resources in Education , 1995

bethune early childhood development center: Publication , 1991

bethune early childhood development center: Social Studies for Young Children Gayle Mindes, Mark Newman, 2021-08-30 This book anchors the social studies as the central unifying force for young children. Teachers use the inquiry process to foster child development of social skills and citizenship ideals in their first classroom experiences. Curriculum is built starting with children's natural curiosity to foster literacy in all its form—speaking, listening, reading, writing. Along the way, young children acquire knowledge and academic skills in civics, economics, geography and history. Shown throughout are ways to promote social learning, self-concept development, social skills and citizenship behaviors. Featured here are individually appropriate and culturally relevant developmental practices. Considered are the importance of family collaboration and funds of knowledge children bring to early care and education. Contributors to this edition bring expertise from bilingual, early education, literacy, special education and the social studies. Beginning with citizenship and community building the authors consider all aspects of teaching young children leading to a progression of capacity to engage civically in school and community.

bethune early childhood development center: American Education Richard Wynn, Joanne Lindsay Wynn, 1977

bethune early childhood development center: Hearings United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, 1967

bethune early childhood development center: School-age Mother and Child Health Act, 1975 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Public Welfare. Subcommittee on Health, 1976

bethune early childhood development center: Childhood Education , 1969

bethune early childhood development center: Pacesetters in Innovation , 1968

bethune early childhood development center: Crawling Behind: America's Child Care Crisis and How to Fix It Elliot Haspel, 2019 “I’ve totally washed away the dream of having one more child.” “I had never intended to be a stay-at-home-parent, but the cost of child care turned me into one.” “We had to pull our toddler out of his program because we couldn’t afford to have two kids in high-quality care.” These are not the voices of those down on their luck, but the voices of America’s middle class. The lack of affordable, available, high-quality childcare is a boulder on the backs of all but the most affluent. Millions of hard-working families are left gasping for air while the next generation misses out on a strong start. To date, we’ve been fighting this five-alarm fire with the policy equivalent of beach toy water buckets. It’s time for a bold investment in America’s families and America’s future. There’s only one viable solution: Childcare should be free.

bethune early childhood development center: Ebony , 1977-07 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing. Founded in 1945 by John H. Johnson, it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American-focused magazine.

bethune early childhood development center: Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1999

bethune early childhood development center: Neuroscience, Learning and Educational Psychology María Jesús Luque Rojas, Eduardo Blanco Calvo, María Teresa Martín-Aragoneses, 2022-08-25

bethune early childhood development center: Examination of the War on Poverty United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Public Welfare. Subcommittee on Employment, Manpower, and Poverty, 1967

Related to bethune early childhood development center

Mary McLeod Bethune - Wikipedia Bethune became the first Black woman to lead a federal agency when she was appointed by President Franklin Roosevelt as the Secretary to lead the National Youth Association (NYA).

Homepage [I] On October 3, 1904, an exceptional young Black woman, Mary McLeod Bethune, opened the Daytona Literary and Industrial Training School for Negro Girls—what would become Bethune

Béthune - Wikipedia "The Siege of Bethune 1710: The Journals of Private Deane and General Vauban Compared". Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research. 64 (260): 205-211

Mary McLeod Bethune - U.S. National Park Service MARY McLEOD BETHUNE QUICK FACTS Mary McLeod Bethune used the power of education, political activism, and civil service to achieve racial and gender equality throughout the United

Mary McLeod Bethune - Quotes, Facts & Education - Biography Mary McLeod Bethune was an educator and activist, serving as president of the National Association of Colored Women and founding the National Council of Negro Women

Mary McLeod Bethune | Biography & Facts | Britannica Mary McLeod Bethune, American educator who was active nationally in African American affairs and was a special adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the problems of minority

Mary McLeod Bethune: “First Lady of Negro America” From Bethune-Cookman University, the historically Black university she established in Florida, to her founding of the National Council of Negro Women (NCNW), to her work in the federal

Mary McLeod Bethune - National Women's History Museum Pioneering educator and college founder Mary McLeod Bethune set educational standards for today’s Black colleges and served as an advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Bethune Résumé - U.S. National Park Service The 15th of 17 children of former slaves, Bethune grew up amidst poverty and oppression of the Reconstruction South, yet rose to prominence as an educator, presidential advisor, and

Bethune | History, Geography, & Points of Interest | Britannica History and geography of the town of Bethune, France

Mary McLeod Bethune - Wikipedia Bethune became the first Black woman to lead a federal agency when she was appointed by President Franklin Roosevelt as the Secretary to lead the National Youth Association (NYA).

Homepage [] On October 3, 1904, an exceptional young Black woman, Mary McLeod Bethune, opened the Daytona Literary and Industrial Training School for Negro Girls—what would become Bethune

Béthune - Wikipedia "The Siege of Bethune 1710: The Journals of Private Deane and General Vauban Compared". Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research. 64 (260): 205–211

Mary McLeod Bethune - U.S. National Park Service MARY McLEOD BETHUNE QUICK FACTS Mary McLeod Bethune used the power of education, political activism, and civil service to achieve racial and gender equality throughout the United

Mary McLeod Bethune - Quotes, Facts & Education - Biography Mary McLeod Bethune was an educator and activist, serving as president of the National Association of Colored Women and founding the National Council of Negro Women

Mary McLeod Bethune | Biography & Facts | Britannica Mary McLeod Bethune, American educator who was active nationally in African American affairs and was a special adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the problems of minority

Mary McLeod Bethune: "First Lady of Negro America" From Bethune-Cookman University, the historically Black university she established in Florida, to her founding of the National Council of Negro Women (NCNW), to her work in the federal

Mary McLeod Bethune - National Women's History Museum Pioneering educator and college founder Mary McLeod Bethune set educational standards for today's Black colleges and served as an advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Bethune Résumé - U.S. National Park Service The 15th of 17 children of former slaves, Bethune grew up amidst poverty and oppression of the Reconstruction South, yet rose to prominence as an educator, presidential advisor, and

Bethune | History, Geography, & Points of Interest | Britannica History and geography of the town of Bethune, France

Mary McLeod Bethune - Wikipedia Bethune became the first Black woman to lead a federal agency when she was appointed by President Franklin Roosevelt as the Secretary to lead the National Youth Association (NYA).

Homepage [] On October 3, 1904, an exceptional young Black woman, Mary McLeod Bethune, opened the Daytona Literary and Industrial Training School for Negro Girls—what would become Bethune

Béthune - Wikipedia "The Siege of Bethune 1710: The Journals of Private Deane and General Vauban Compared". Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research. 64 (260): 205–211

Mary McLeod Bethune - U.S. National Park Service MARY McLEOD BETHUNE QUICK FACTS Mary McLeod Bethune used the power of education, political activism, and civil service to achieve racial and gender equality throughout the United

Mary McLeod Bethune - Quotes, Facts & Education - Biography Mary McLeod Bethune was an educator and activist, serving as president of the National Association of Colored Women and founding the National Council of Negro Women

Mary McLeod Bethune | Biography & Facts | Britannica Mary McLeod Bethune, American educator who was active nationally in African American affairs and was a special adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the problems of minority

Mary McLeod Bethune: "First Lady of Negro America" From Bethune-Cookman University, the historically Black university she established in Florida, to her founding of the National Council of Negro Women (NCNW), to her work in the federal

Mary McLeod Bethune - National Women's History Museum Pioneering educator and college founder Mary McLeod Bethune set educational standards for today's Black colleges and served as an advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Bethune Résumé - U.S. National Park Service The 15th of 17 children of former slaves, Bethune grew up amidst poverty and oppression of the Reconstruction South, yet rose to prominence as an educator, presidential advisor, and

Bethune | History, Geography, & Points of Interest | Britannica History and geography of the town of Bethune, France

Mary McLeod Bethune - Wikipedia Bethune became the first Black woman to lead a federal agency when she was appointed by President Franklin Roosevelt as the Secretary to lead the National Youth Association (NYA).

Homepage | On October 3, 1904, an exceptional young Black woman, Mary McLeod Bethune, opened the Daytona Literary and Industrial Training School for Negro Girls—what would become Bethune

Béthune - Wikipedia "The Siege of Bethune 1710: The Journals of Private Deane and General Vauban Compared". Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research. 64 (260): 205–211

Mary McLeod Bethune - U.S. National Park Service MARY McLEOD BETHUNE QUICK FACTS Mary McLeod Bethune used the power of education, political activism, and civil service to achieve racial and gender equality throughout the United

Mary McLeod Bethune - Quotes, Facts & Education - Biography Mary McLeod Bethune was an educator and activist, serving as president of the National Association of Colored Women and founding the National Council of Negro Women

Mary McLeod Bethune | Biography & Facts | Britannica Mary McLeod Bethune, American educator who was active nationally in African American affairs and was a special adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the problems of minority

Mary McLeod Bethune: "First Lady of Negro America" From Bethune-Cookman University, the historically Black university she established in Florida, to her founding of the National Council of Negro Women (NCNW), to her work in the federal

Mary McLeod Bethune - National Women's History Museum Pioneering educator and college founder Mary McLeod Bethune set educational standards for today's Black colleges and served as an advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Bethune Résumé - U.S. National Park Service The 15th of 17 children of former slaves, Bethune grew up amidst poverty and oppression of the Reconstruction South, yet rose to prominence as an educator, presidential advisor, and

Bethune | History, Geography, & Points of Interest | Britannica History and geography of the town of Bethune, France

Mary McLeod Bethune - Wikipedia Bethune became the first Black woman to lead a federal agency when she was appointed by President Franklin Roosevelt as the Secretary to lead the National Youth Association (NYA).

Homepage | On October 3, 1904, an exceptional young Black woman, Mary McLeod Bethune, opened the Daytona Literary and Industrial Training School for Negro Girls—what would become Bethune

Béthune - Wikipedia "The Siege of Bethune 1710: The Journals of Private Deane and General Vauban Compared". Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research. 64 (260): 205–211

Mary McLeod Bethune - U.S. National Park Service MARY McLEOD BETHUNE QUICK FACTS Mary McLeod Bethune used the power of education, political activism, and civil service to achieve racial and gender equality throughout the United

Mary McLeod Bethune - Quotes, Facts & Education - Biography Mary McLeod Bethune was an educator and activist, serving as president of the National Association of Colored Women and founding the National Council of Negro Women

Mary McLeod Bethune | Biography & Facts | Britannica Mary McLeod Bethune, American educator who was active nationally in African American affairs and was a special adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the problems of minority

Mary McLeod Bethune: "First Lady of Negro America" From Bethune-Cookman University, the historically Black university she established in Florida, to her founding of the National Council of

Negro Women (NCNW), to her work in the federal

Mary McLeod Bethune - National Women's History Museum Pioneering educator and college founder Mary McLeod Bethune set educational standards for today's Black colleges and served as an advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Bethune Résumé - U.S. National Park Service The 15th of 17 children of former slaves, Bethune grew up amidst poverty and oppression of the Reconstruction South, yet rose to prominence as an educator, presidential advisor, and

Bethune | History, Geography, & Points of Interest | Britannica History and geography of the town of Bethune, France

Related to bethune early childhood development center

Gary preschoolers get into the holiday spirit (Chicago Tribune1y) Students waited in lines at Gary's Bethune Early Childhood Development Center on Monday morning — eager to discover what toy awaited them. Neatly wrapped gifts — ranging from robotic cars to science

Gary preschoolers get into the holiday spirit (Chicago Tribune1y) Students waited in lines at Gary's Bethune Early Childhood Development Center on Monday morning — eager to discover what toy awaited them. Neatly wrapped gifts — ranging from robotic cars to science

Bethune preschoolers learn STEM through tree planting (The Times of Northwest Indiana2mon) GARY — Preschoolers at the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center helped green things up around school grounds in a recent tree planting initiative. The Pre-K program partnered with the Wetlands

Bethune preschoolers learn STEM through tree planting (The Times of Northwest Indiana2mon) GARY — Preschoolers at the Bethune Early Childhood Development Center helped green things up around school grounds in a recent tree planting initiative. The Pre-K program partnered with the Wetlands

Back to Home: <https://staging.devenscommunity.com>