women in business conferences 2024: Proceedings of the 20th European Conference on Management, Leadership and Governance Mafalda Patuleia, 2024 women in business conferences 2024: Women's Contribution to Science and Technology through ICWES Conferences Monique Frize, Claire Deschênes, Ruby Heap, 2023-12-09 This book discusses the legacy of the conference series The International Conferences of Women Engineers and Scientists (ICWES), which spans the second half of the Twentieth Century and the beginning of the twenty-first. The book first discusses how, at a time when there were few women engineers and scientists, a group of women organized a conference, in June 1964 in New York, which attracted 486 women. They presented their scientific achievements and discussed how to attract more women in STEM. This effort was carried out by volunteers, continuing the ICWES conferences over a period of 59 years. The authors discuss the organizers, the hosting societies, the scientific content, the changes in issues over time, and how the continuity has endured. The authors also discuss the importance of global involvement, shown through past conferences in locations such as USA, UK, Italy, Poland, France, India, Ivory Coast, Hungary, Japan, Canada, and Korea. The authors also outline how the efforts were aided by the development of a not for profit Canadian corporation, the International Conference of Women in Sciences and engineering (INWES), which ensures the continuation of the conference series. Claire Deschênes and Monique Frize ensured that the conference database was digitalized and is now available at the Canadian Archive of Women in STEM, University of Ottawa Library, with the hope that researchers will continue to explore this rich database. As an important part of the Women in Science and Engineering book series, the work hopes to inspire women and men, girls and boys to study and work in STEM fields. This book is important historically because it documents a unique adventure created by women in STEM through vision and leadership. Their efforts established modes of networking and sharing their contributions in science, technology, and on gender issues.

women in business conferences 2024: Women in Logistics, Transport and Commodity Sector Nor Aida Abdul Rahman, Emilia Vann Yaroson, Norlin Khalid, Fathien Azuien Yusriza, 2025-04-22 This book explores the fundamental human right of gender equality as a cornerstone for a peaceful, affluent, and sustainable world. Members of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) and other countries have formulated strategies to increase the participation of women in business and leadership roles, highlighting its significance. Women currently hold 29% of senior or managerial positions, as noted in Catalyst (2019). Despite this progress, women's participation in logistics and transport remains low due to factors like low expectations, limited access to critical skills, and inadequate advancement, especially in aviation, maritime, and rail sectors. The book offers a comprehensive review and empirical study of women's capacity building, talent management, and leadership in logistics, transportation, and commodity sectors, including palm oil, gold, and copper. It covers female empowerment, leadership values, and challenges faced during crises such as COVID-19, wars, and natural disasters. With international case studies, this book is a vital resource for students, scholars, and practitioners in logistics and transport. It aims to benefit advanced undergraduates, postgraduates, managers, and decision-makers worldwide.

women in business conferences 2024: Digitalization and Women's Rights Muharrem Kılıç, Sezer Bozkuş Kahyaoğlu, 2025-10-20 Technological advancements frequently hinder the progress of women in the business sphere. In our current landscape, the rapid evolution of technology—driven by digital transformation—has created significant barriers to women's participation. This has given rise to new forms of discrimination that often go unacknowledged and unaddressed. The unfortunate reality is that this issue is sidelined in discussions about the economy and broader implications for employment. We must recognize and confront the unique challenges women face in this technological age, as their exclusion not only impacts them but also stifles innovation and growth in our economy. It is time to advocate for a more inclusive approach that empowers women in the tech world. In this vital context, it is essential to recognize the discrimination and emerging challenges that women will face, although these issues may not have been previously explored in sufficient detail. This work has been thoughtfully created to fill that gap, serving as a crucial reference about these matters. By shedding light on existing gaps in the research, this book promises to enrich future studies and provide invaluable insights for researchers who investigate and evaluate related works. One of the most pressing challenges ahead for women in the rapidly evolving digital landscape is understanding and navigating the economic opportunities available to them. As we enter this new era, women will undergo a transformative journey that demands adaptability and learning in the face of continuous innovation. This work aspires to contribute significantly to these conversations and empower women as they embrace the future.

women in business conferences 2024: Cases on AI Innovations in Occupational Health and Safety Chadyiwa, Martha, Oladimeji, Olanrewaju, 2025-06-06 Hazards are a significant concern to businesses, including handling heavy or biomedical materials and machine operation. Innovations in occupational health and safety may prevent injuries and accidents and increase the physical health of the employees. Artificial intelligence (AI) tools may increase workplace safety by offering real-time monitoring technologies and safety hazard prediction. Consequently, costs associated with incidents may be decreased and working conditions may improve, enhancing the well-being of employees. Cases on AI Innovations in Occupational Health and Safety explores applications of intelligent technology in the field of occupational health and safety. It provides real-life examples on how risk management and hazard prevention have been reshaped by AI and machine learning technologies. Covering topics such as bio-risk management, long short-term memory (LSTM), and urban informal vendors, this book is an excellent resource for safety policymakers, technology innovators, consultants, safety practitioners, business managers, professionals, researchers, academicians, and more.

women in business conferences 2024: Rise to the Challenge Marlene M. Johnson, 2024-09-24 The inspiring life story of Minnesota's first woman lieutenant governor: breaking political ground, navigating patriarchal tradition, and persevering through great personal loss Marking a milestone for women in state government, Marlene M. Johnson became Minnesota's first woman lieutenant governor under Rudy Perpich's gubernatorial administration in January 1983. That same year, she met her husband, Peter, and their deeply loving relationship profoundly sustained her for twenty-seven years. Rise to the Challenge weaves these personal and professional stories together in a courageous portrait of dedication and leadership. Growing up in rural Minnesota, Johnson began organizing and advocating for change early, beginning with a campaign to introduce foreign languages into her high school curriculum. Pursuing a deeply felt commitment to improving the lives of others, she continued to sharpen her leadership skills throughout her life, participating in activist work in college, cofounding organizations to support women entrepreneurs and politicians, and eventually running an international education nonprofit. A stalwart supporter, her husband gave Marlene strength and encouragement to face the challenges of the political landscape and its gender biases. Then, in 2010, he suffered a traumatic brain injury that would change both of their lives. Learning how to be a medical advocate and, eventually, facing the sorrow of Peter's death, Marlene relied on the hard-fought resilience and belief in herself that Peter had helped her to develop. A story of learning and leadership in politics, business, and public service, Rise to the Challenge is a moving portrayal of spirit, perseverance, and grace in the face of daunting personal challenges, supported by unwavering faith in the public good.

women in business conferences 2024: The Sustainability Handbook, Volume 1 Mark Von Rosing, 2024-11-30 The Sustainability Handbook, Volume 1: The Body of Knowledge around Substantial Sustainability Innovation provides a comprehensive and holistic understanding of sustainability, bridging the gap between academic theory and business practices. Global climate change poses enormous environmental challenges, and societies across the world must adapt and innovate to further the goals of sustainability. The private sector must find new ways of doing business to align practices with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) adopted by the international community. Using a conceptually structured framework throughout, the book examines the latest academic research to summarize what environmental, social, and economic sustainability means in different contexts. Using numerous specific case studies and insights from industry leaders, the book shows how to strategically integrate sustainability into the organization, with extensive focus on policies, incentives, measures, operations, production, consumption, and lifecycle management. Volume 1 explores the concept of Substantial Sustainability Innovation within an enterprise and why it is important. It clarifies the difference between environmental, social and governance aspects of sustainability and how they relate to each other. With examples from local sourcing to CO2 reduction, business ethics to sustainability portfolio management, green business process management to gender diversity, this volume explores how you can use sustainability to innovate and identifies which components to use to build an effective sustainable strategy. For researchers, students, and businesspeople at all levels and sectors, this handbook is an essential reference of the latest sustainability tools and methodologies required to adapt and innovate towards sustainability. - Provides step-by-step guidance on key procedures and methodologies - Presents chapters that begin with a graphical representation of how the topic fits within the larger framework - Includes extensive coverage of sustainability-related case studies and lessons learned women in business conferences 2024: Reforming Arbitration Reform Crina Baltag, Mark Feldman, 2025-02-17 Reforming Arbitration Reform: Emerging Voices, New Strategies and Evolving Values Edited by Crina Baltag & Mark Feldman The legitimacy of international arbitration is being called into question. Arbitration is now subject to a multitude of regulatory sources and critical voices that seem to compromise the core interests of arbitration users and the arbitration community. This comprehensive discussion of ongoing and emerging reform efforts in both commercial and investment arbitration provides a thorough examination of how evolving values of diversity, inclusiveness, and sustainability are impacting the very nature of the field. Capturing the imperative need to critically consider how these new strategies and voices can lead to a new age of international arbitration, more than thirty well-known practitioners and academics offer invaluable perspectives on such aspects of the subject as the following: conflicts of interest and ethical dilemmas; gender diversity; alleged instances of judicial overreach; third-party funders; role of professional organizations; intersections between investment law and race, environmental protection, and indigenous peoples; role of developing states; and increasing importance of regionalism. Particular attention is paid to a number of countries and regions that have been most active in reform measures, including Latin America and the Caribbean, the MERCOSUR and ASEAN groups, the European Union, Brazil, and China. The contributions are based on papers presented at the 20th ITA-ASIL Conference which took place on 29 March 2023 in Washington DC. Given that demands for arbitration reform come from very different perspectives that need to be reconciled, the active engagement of key stakeholders of the arbitration process in reform projects is essential in order to ensure that reforms are meaningful and successful. For this reason, the book will prove of immeasurable value to both arbitration users and regulators for the in-depth understanding it will impart of how emerging voices are advancing reform of the international arbitration practice area.
